FSAP offers numerous opportunities for members who are not interested in upgrading their credentials to further their education and to practicing using their parliamentary skills:

- Attend local unit meetings that meet in person.
- Join units that meet virtually.
- FSAP's Fifth Tuesday education sessions
- FSAP offers training sessions on specific topics throughout the year for FSAP members.
- FSAP's weekly Muse provides opportunities to practice understanding real life situations and to do research.
- FSAP's membership meetings in May and October include interactive education sessions.
- FSAP's monthly publication, The Florida Parliamentarian, includes educational articles and commentaries and notices for all upcoming events.

NAP is planning a Spring National Training Conference in addition to the official opening of the NAP University, as well as the NAP Leadership Conference in the Fall prior to the NAP Convention in Atlanta.
